

Did you see our latest temporary exhibits?

Temporary exhibits this summer were very well received. Neal and Mary Corey displayed hand crafted wooden artifacts including a functional jeep in June-July. July-August featured the many Lego creations of Jackson Dellevoet, Van Keslin, Colby Evans, Cole Graham, Marcus Ingels and Eli Ingels. Who knew Legos were no longer only rectangular pieces? What will be next?

HPHS Annual Meeting

A small group of High Plains Historical Society members attended the annual meeting on July 8. They were educated by Troy Bruntz on the 50 year history of McCook Community Hospital and entertained by Sharon Conroy with stories from her more primitive early days of nursing. Site manager Linda Buck presented fun facts on female pharmacists in southwest Nebraska and the museum's iron lung.

Boo! Gobble Gobble! Ho Ho Ho!

Be on the lookout for several holiday happenings going on at the Museum.

Board Spotlight

Name: Jamie Mockry (currently VP)
Hometown Museum:

McCook Museum of the High Plains
How I came to be in McCook:

All my life plus 6 other generations
Other McCook activities:

Commissioner City of McCook,
Southwest Nebraska Leadership
Institute, Outreach chair McCook
Christian Church, Freedom Festival
Something you may not know about me:

Love McCook !!

How I came to be on the HPHS Board:
Interest in history and our area

Dream for the museum:

Walk way to Carnegie Library and outdoor exhibits

All rails lead to the Museum of the High Plains